

List of services:

COACHING & Leadership consulting

As professional coaches we offer coaching in diverse life-fields. We accompany and assist you with your business, with gnawing questions around meaning, identity and self-development. We help you find ways to realize your dreams, your plans and ideas.

We offer leadership consulting focussing on finding a congruent, successful management style that fits your identity and helps you to coach your employees to reach their potential - or even exceed them. Through coaching you will gain the strength and the means to deal with difficult and challenging situations.

Consulting for CROSS CULTURAL Dealings

Cross-cultural skills will be increasingly asked for in a changing, and more globalizing world. Those skills already often are prerequisites to successfully doing business (for instance interactions with Aboriginal peoples and resource companies).

Based on our theoretical and practical expertise in multi-cultural environments, we offer consulting for working within those settings. We assist you in developing a strong foundation and a solid skill set to deal with cultural differences in order to live meaningful and peaceful cross-cultural relationships in your community, in politics and in your work-place.

Conflict Coaching & MEDIATION

We believe in a facilitative, narrative model of mediation, which means we assist you in finding your own resolutions. We don't give advice or judge. Rather we create a space where you can feel safe to share your side of the conflict story, where you will be listened to and to be listen and learn about the other person's intentions.

Our goal is to shift perspectives, to focus on interests and common needs instead of one-sided positions and "wants".

SYSTEMIC Family, Art & Adventure THERAPY

We take holistic approaches to foster the welfare of body, mind and spirit. We use dialogic and systemic methods to grasp complex life circumstances.

We also like to work with creativity and art, with sports and adventure in outdoor settings.

Taking on a holistic approach also means including the whole system, e.g. the family, the workplace, the community.

Professional Academic RESEARCH

As experienced and skilled academics we do research on socio-cultural (anthropological), educational, ethical, philosophical and justice topics.

We like to work in teams and have far reaching contacts in the academic world.
